DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 9/5/08 and 6/18/08, fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because the crossed out references do not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1-4, 13-15, 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Hwang et al. 20040246852 A1 herein Hwang.

3. Per claim 1, Hwang discloses: A method for overwriting data in a recording medium comprising the steps of: a) assigning a plurality of record areas to the recording medium, and recording the same category data in individual record areas; (fig. 6d; medium comprises user data, updated user data, stored separately with file system data and updated file system data) and b) performing a replacement record operation at a specific position indicative of a closest writable area, upon receiving an overwrite command, (¶0011 lines 3-7) and maintaining the same category data in the record area after performing the replacement record operation (fig. 6a-6d; file system data and user data is recorded separately).

Application/Control Number: 11/249,710

4. Per claim 2, Hwang does disclose: wherein the record areas are indicative of Sequential Recording Ranges (SRRs), respectively (fig. 6A-D; per applicant specification, the SRR's are referred to as tracks or successive record areas in the user data region)

5. Per claim 3, Hwang does disclose: wherein the replacement record operation of the data is performed in at least one non-recorded area contained in the SRR receiving the overwrite command when the non-recorded area remains in the SRR (fig. 6a-6d, ¶0056 line; replacement user data is recorded in a non recorded user data area in the same track receiving the overwrite command).

6. Per claim 4, Hwang does disclose: if non-replaced data remains although the replacement record operation of the data is terminated in overall areas of the non-recorded area, the remaining non-replaced data is recorded from a Next Writable Address (NWA) of an adjacent open SRR, such that the replacement record operation of the remaining non-replaced data is performed from the NWA of the adjacent open SRR (fig. 6a-6d, ¶0056; the replacement data (2nd used data) is recorded adjacent to non replaced data in the next writable space).

Application/Control Number: 11/249,710

Art Unit: 2189

7. Per claim 13, Hwang discloses: A method for overwriting data in a recording medium comprising the steps of: a) assigning at least one Sequential Recording Range (SRR) to the recording medium, and recording data in the assigned SRR; (fig. 6d; medium comprises user data, updated user data, stored separately with file system data and updated file system data) b) upon receiving an overwrite command associated with a pre-recorded area contained in the SRR, performing a replacement record operation in a writable area contained in the SRR; (¶0011 lines 3-7) and c) if the writable area is not present in the SRR, performing a replacement record operation in a writable area contained in an adjacent SRR(fig. 6a-6d, ¶0056 line; replacement user data is recorded in a non recorded user data area in the same track receiving the overwrite command).
8. Per claim 14 it contains the same limitation as claim 4 and is rejected for the same reason set forth in connection the rejection of claim 4.
9. Per claim 15 it contains the same limitation as claim 1 and is rejected for the same reason set forth in connection the rejection of claim 1.
10. Per claim 17, it is the recording medium claim corresponding to the method claim 1 and is rejected under the same reasons set forth in connection with the rejection of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Application/Control Number: 11/249,710

Art Unit: 2189

12. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

13. Claims 8-12, 16, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by

US Hwang et al. 20040246852 A1 herein Hwang in view of Park et al. 7188271 B2

herein Park

14. Per claim 8, Hwang does not specifically disclose: the position information of the area receiving the overwrite command and the position information of the replacement record area are recorded as a single entry in a Temporary Disc Management Area (TDMA)

15. However, Park in an analogous art discloses: the position information of the area receiving the overwrite command and the position information of the replacement record area are recorded as a single entry in a Temporary Disc Management Area (TDMA) (fig. 3; discloses position information stored in the TDMA)

16. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of Hwang and Park because Park provides effective methods to manage defective areas of a write once BD. (col. 2 lines 23-26)

Application/Control Number: 11/249,710

Art Unit: 2189

17. Per claim 9, the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose: wherein the position information recorded in the entry is denoted by a first physical sector number (PSN) of a corresponding area (Park: fig. 3; Sector 1... 31)

18. Per claim 10, the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose: wherein information associated with the SRR assigned to the recording medium is recorded as SRR Information (SRRi) in a Temporary Disc Management Area (TDMA) (Park: fig. 3; disc track information recorded in TDMA)

19. Per claim 11, the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose: wherein the SRRi includes a header, and records a number of the open SRR in the header (fig. 3; TDDS maintains Track Info).

20. Per claim 12, the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose: wherein the data is classified into file system data, user data, and file system mirror data (Park: fig. 3).

21. Per claim 16, it is the apparatus claim corresponding to the method claim 1 and is rejected under the same reasons set forth in connection with the rejection of claim 1. Furthermore, Hwang is silent to a microprocessor and pickup unit. However, Park discloses a microprocessor and pickup unit (fig. 2). Therefore the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose the limitations of claim 16.

22. Per claim 18, the combined teachings of Hwang and Park disclose: the recording medium is indicative of a write-once optical disc such as a BD-R (Blu-ray Disc Recordable) (Park: fig. 3; BD-WO, blu-ray write once).

Application/Control Number: 11/249,710

Allowable Subject Matter

23. Claims 5-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Remark

Examiner respectfully requests, in response to this Office action, support be shown for language added to any original claims on amendment and any new claims. That is, indicate support for newly added claim language by specifically pointing to page(s) and line number(s) in the specification and/or drawing figure(s). This will assist Examiner in prosecuting the application.
